Art Unit: 1724

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 18-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as based on a disclosure which is not enabling. It appears essential that the step of passing the aqueous solution through the quantity of ion exchange resin for the removal of thorium (claim 18, lines 2-3) be carried out both continuously and at a constant flow rate, since the specification clearly indicates that these process conditions are required to achieve the objects of the invention (see page 2, lines 15-16 and 19-20; page 3, lines 20-21; and page 4, line 1). Claims 18-25 fail to recite these essential process conditions, and are therefore not enabled by the disclosure. In re Mayhew, 527 F.2d 1229, 188 USPQ 356 (CCPA 1976).

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 18-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which Applicant regards as the invention. These claims fail to recite that the ion exchange resin treatment is both continuous and operated at a substantially constant flow rate; and therefore, they fail to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which Applicant regards as the invention. Claims 19-25 are further indefinite because they depend from non-existent claims (i.e. 39 or 40).

Claims 18-25 have not been rejected over “art” because the references of record do not teach or fairly suggest diluting with water an aqueous solution containing radioactive thorium, removing organic material from this aqueous solution by filtering, and thereafter passing this diluted and filtered aqueous solution through a quantity of ion exchange resin to remove the thorium therefrom.

Rushton (U.S. Patent No. 4,943,318) discloses removing organic contaminants and thorium from an effluent. Pavia (U.S. Patent No. 4,196,081) teaches removing organic contaminants from water with activated carbon (col. 3, lines 38-41) in order to prevent organic contamination of an ion exchange resin (col. 5, lines 10-14).
